

Impromptu Journey with Jo-Jo

Jo-Jo is going on vacation. He works hard at his many jobs and deserves some time off. He has some places in mind that he would like to visit but he needs your help. Let us see where Jo-Jo goes on his impromptu journey.

Rules of the Road:

The Toastmaster will be given a starting location and an object from Jo-Jo's travel bag by the person speaking before him/her or by the Table Topics Master. The Toastmaster develops the story around the object chosen for them in that specific location then introduces another character that Jo-Jo meets along his travels.

As that Toastmaster wraps up their time, they lead the story into another location with another object from Jo-Jo's travel bag without going into detail. The next Toastmaster will add the details when they continue story. Wrap up by choosing:

- An item from Jo-Jo's travel bag,
- A location for the next Toastmaster, and
- Finally, the next Toastmaster.

Let us give Jo-Jo some personality and adventure.

Use your imagination, and Most importantly have fun!
